What is Narrative Text

- Any writing that tells a story

Narrative Text

Different Elements of Narrative Text

Characters

- The people in the short story or novel
- Look for adjectives that tell what a character is like
- Decide what a character's words or actions say about them
- Notice how events cause a character to act during a story

Narrative Text

Plot

- “What happens in the story”
- Pay attention to how each event in the story leads to the next event
- Look for the main conflict that a character faces
- Focus on how the conflict is resolved

Narrative Text

Setting and Mood

- Time and place where the story takes place
- Look for details that express the mood or atmosphere
- Determine how the setting affects the characters or the events of the plot

Narrative Text

Theme

- Message or idea that the author wants you to get
- Not stated directly
- Pay close attention to the events and outcome and you should be able to determine the theme

Narrative Text

Narrative Text

- Simile- a comparison by using words “like” or “as”
- Metaphor- comparison by stating one thing is another
- Personification- human traits to objects
- Hyperbole- striking image by exaggerating something

How to Write a Narrative Text

- A good narrative tells a story in an interesting way by adding elements of suspense so that the reader will want to know how the story will turn out
- A well written narration will contain several elements:

Narrative Text

1. It will tell you what happens, where and how the action happens as well as who is involved in the action (Plot, Setting & Mood and Characters)

Narrative Text

2. Make sure to describe the characters in detail. Describe how they look, what they are wearing and be sure to include something special about the character
(Character)

Narrative Text

3. Make sure your story is organized. You can do this by using chronological order. The beginning will set the scene for the story, the middle should tell the story (plot) and the end should bring the story to a conclusion
